

Graham Dodd

I've been involved in Non-League football for most of my life as a player, manager, director of football, Chairman and currently Head of Football Operations at ETFC.

Most of my "career" was at Brimsdown Rovers, where I was Chairman for 10 years, leaving the season before ETFC ground shared. After a few years away from the game, I became involved at Broxbourne Borough firstly in management and then as Director of Football in the club's most successful seasons.

After leaving there, Andy Leese invited me to ETFC as part of the U23's management team and I stayed on after that team was disbanded to help Andy in a wide-ranging role and now fulfil the same role for Gavin.

Outside of football, I live in Cheshunt and started my own marketing consultancy over 30 years ago. I'm now only involved in a limited capacity as one of my twin sons has pretty much taken over the business.

That has freed up a considerable amount of time and I'd be happy to devote some of that time to ETFC, perhaps more specifically in the advertising/marketing side of the club in terms of sponsorship and advertising.
